Students act as Campbell city officials

CITY FATHERS(?)---On Monday of this week, students from three of the local high schools assumed the roles of city officials in the annual Student Government Day.

REPORTING AND RECORDING---The week of Nov. 10-16 has been officially proclaimed by Mayor Homer Hyde as "Youth Appreciation Week" in Campbell. On Monday, students from three local high schools assumed roles of city officials in the annual "Student Government Day".

After touring the city and learning the ropes from their respective official counterparts, the students were guests of the Rotary Club at luncheon. In the evening they conducted their own "City Council" meeting. Reports were made by "staff" and "policies" were established.

Council overrules roof sign decision of Planning Commission

By a 3-2 vote, the City Council on Monday night overruled a decision of the Planning Commission and approved a new roof sign for Roundhouse Liquors in the Kirkwood Plaza.

The Planning Commission followed the recommendation of the Planning Commission and by a 4-2 vote denied the application for the new sign which would replace the present one. The matter then was submitted to the City Council on appeal.

Councilmen Ralph Doetsch, Dean Chamberlin and Bill Smeed voted to overrule the Planning Commission with Mayor Homer Hyde and Councilman Ed Rogers on the other side.

The owners of Roundhouse Liquors, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lundquist, had maintained that the present sign was inadequate and that a new type was necessary for their business.

Vernon Burgess, of Ad Art, designers of the proposed new sign, presented the case for the liquor store owners. He described the proposal and explained that it was necessary to place the sign on the roof so that people could see it. The design of the building, he

City names Rincon Park architect

A Palo Alto based landscape architectural firm, Arutunian & Johnson, will do the master planning for the city-owned Rincon Park.

The City Council on Monday night, acting on the recommendation of the selection committee, headed by Henry Cary, of the Parks and Recreation Commission, directed the city staff to proceed with contract negotiations with the Palo Alto firm.

Cary explained to the Council that the final selection had been made from five applicants who had "survived" previous screenings and that there had been 13 in the "finals".

Funds for the master planning will come from the park bonds voted by the citizens on June 10.

The selection committee was composed of two councilmen, Ralph Doetsch and Dean Chamberlin; Dale Scott, of the Planning Commission and Cary and Court Watson from the Parks and Recreation Commission.

In another action Monday night, the City Council approved the request of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Di Maria to operate a "Christmas Tree lot" at 1280 White Oaks Rd. for three weeks during the Christmas season.

The lot, owned by Charles Ferroni, is now located in HONORED BY CITY---Mrs. Joseph Suoto (center), of 236 N. Central Ave., Campbell, on Monday night was presented with a certificate from the city for "having the cleanest lot in town".

Mrs. Jeanette Watson (left), chairman of the city's Beautification Committee, in making the award to Mrs. Suoto, explained that Mrs. Suoto, a 52-year resident of Campbell, has kept a vacant lot next to her home a model for cleanliness throughout the years. Mayor Homer Hyde, who recalled that Mrs. Suoto was his boss when he worked in the cannery in town as a youngster, took part in the ceremony.

Some business drops

Second quarter total sales gain

Retail sales in Campbell for the second quarter this year (ending June 30) increased over the same period the previous year by $1,881,000 and by $1,860,000 over the first quarter this year, according to a report issued by the State Board of Equalization.

The Board allocates sales tax based on the total sales.

Strangely enough the category of "building materials" showed the biggest gain this year over last ($659,000) while many other retail outlets showed a decrease in sales in 1969 over the same period in 1968.

The biggest gainer in all retail sales, however, according to the report, was in the general listing of "all other outlets". There was a healthy gain in this category of $1,225,000.

A decrease was noted in sales in the category, "home furnishings and appliances", a long-time leader in the retail sales picture in Campbell.

In the second quarter this year, the "home furnishing" division accounted for $2,147,000 in retail sales, compared to $2,245,000 a year ago, a drop of $98,000.

There was even a greater drop ($388,000) from the first quarter this year when the "home furnishings" showed $2,535,000 in sales.

Another category which showed a decrease in the second quarter this year from the same three months last year was "food stores".

In the second quarter in 1968, "food stores" accounted for $1,396,000 of the total taxable retail sales in Campbell.

In the second quarter this year, the "food store" total was $1,203,000, a decrease of $193,000. The second quarter showed an increase of $55,000, however, on the first quarter this year.

"Drug stores" dropped slightly this year from last ($289,000 to $292,000) while "eating places" went up $18,000 and "apparel stores" jumped $17,000.

Los Gatos retail sales for the second quarter this year soared $2,325,000 over the same period last year ($15,-

Waffles on the Nov. 16 Kiwanis breakfast menu

Pancake breakfasts come and go, but a waffle breakfast is something new under the Campbell sun. Campbell residents are all invited to attend a waffle breakfast, scheduled by the Campbell Kiwanis Club on Sunday, Nov. 16 at the Campbell High School cafetorium.

A battery of waffle irons will be hot and ready to go at 8 a.m. in the Campbell High School cafeteria under the careful eyes of Jim O'Brien, kitchen chairman and Milt Nelson, service chairman.

"All you can eat" is the motto of the day with delicious waffles, sausages, scrambled eggs, juice and coffee all being served to music. Fee for all this food is only $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12--Campbell residents can hardly afford to stay home at these low prices.

Proceeds from the annual breakfast go to the Campbell Union High School District Foreign Exchange Student program, Kiwanis Key Clubs and other youth activities. Tickets are available from the Kiwanis members, Foreign Exchange Student committee members, Future Farmers of America and Key Club members of Campbell and Branham.

Breakfast will be served continuously from 8 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Planners to act on zone change on Campbell Ave.

On the agenda for the Planning Commission meeting next Monday, Nov. 17, is a public hearing on the application of Lowell Grattan for a zone change from residential to commercial for property at 540 and 600 W. Campbell Ave. (at San Tomas Expressway).

Grattan, of Pan Pacific Properties, and the Seventh-Day Adventist Church are jointly requesting the zone change for the properties fronting on Campbell Ave. The rear portion of the properties is adjacent to the present Church parcel which fronts on Dot Ave.

In his request, Grattan claims that because the property is at an intersection of the expressway and a major thoroughfare, it is ideally suited for commercial development "serving the motoring public".

Art Kee, planning director, has opposed the commercial zoning because medium den-

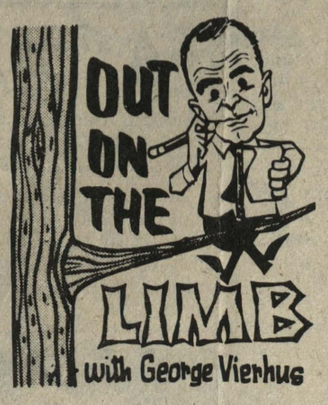
Campbell band gains honors

Campbell High School students are exceedingly proud these days when it was announced that the school had received three first places in the Northern California Invitation competition held for band members in Modesto over the weekend.

First place in the drum major division was taken by Campbell's Mark Harville. Also placing first was the flag team with Diane Smith as head girl and the Campbell High Pirettes, in the small drill team division. Kristy Nunes and Mary Dinsmore are co-heads of the Pirettes.

The band is directed by Clarence Savage.



IT WAS PROBABLY UNintentional but one of our readers recently, in an unsigned note to us, paid The Campbell Press a compliment for its integrity.

You may recall that several weeks ago, an editorial in this sheet called attention to the "big wheels" in San Jose who have rushed lately to proclaim that "The Towers", Campbell's 18-story office building, was part of the metropolitan area of San Jose.

The editorial went on to point out that until "The Towers" became an established fact Campbell had been unrecognized by the big shots of San Jose who have been engrossed for years in building a metropolitan image for their city.

Our anonymous friend(?) carefully clipped the editorial to the advertisement that appeared in the same issue advertising that "The Towers" was leasing for occupancy on Jan. 1, 1970.

The ad noted that "The Towers" was "located at the geographic center of greater metropolitan San Jose".

The typewritten unsigned note attached to the clippings by "old anon" read: "Your paid advertising certainly does not coincide with your earth-shaking editorial".

That is one of the nicest compliments that could be paid any newspaper, large or small.

Unknowingly, the party summed up the creed of sincere journalism.

You see you BUY advertising in this newspaper.

The editorial space is not for sale.

AT AN INFORMAL GET-together in honor of Jim Hurley, who has retired as Campbell postmaster, Bill Winters was describing an individual who has been in public eye for some time.

We are not sure whether it was original with Bill or that it came out exactly the way he wanted it to sound.

But here is the way we wrote it down:

"Seldom right, never wrong, truly sincere."

Try that one on for size.

IN THE MAIL THIS WEEK came a page from "The Talon" the mimeographed newspaper for the Rolling Hills School in the Campbell district.

Obviously someone was trying to tell us something.

Outlined in red pencil with arrows from the word "Notice" was an item headed "GUTTERS" tastefully decorated with a drawing of a youngster caught in the rain.

We quote in full, without comment, the marked "editorial" of a budding journalist:

"GUTTERS

"For five years our school has been in service, and for five years we have been promised rain-gutters. I am aware that any job no matter how meager a job, takes months.

"But is that any reason to postpone such a basic requirement for so long a time?

"I ask, is this unpleasant situation of being dripped on and books watered (they do not need watering, they do not grow) going to go on much longer?

"We are now on the verge of the rainy season: WE MUST STAND UP FOR OUR RIGHT TO WARMER DRIER NOT WETTER WINTERS!

All-American City

For the past 20 years, the National Municipal League and Look Magazine have co-sponsored the annual All-America Cities Awards that give national recognition to citizens whose teamwork and initiative have solved serious community problems and headed them off before they become crucial.

Each year the awards honor 11 communities in the United States for outstanding civic achievements.

It has become an award that is coveted by progressive communities. To be designated an "All-American City" is an honor that is recognized throughout the country and the city that is thus named proudly advertises the fact.

Award winners for 1968 were Cottage Grove, Oregon; Fairbanks, Alaska and San Diego, Calif. Honorable mention cities included Redlands, Calif., and Visalia, Calif.

The awards are made for citizen action and a review of the basis for those cities that were named in recent years indicates conclusively in our opinion, that the City of Campbell is not only well qualified for entry into the competition for the high honor but based on this city's achievements in recent years, could make it a top contestant.

We readily admit that there will be many who will maintain that being recognized as an "All-American City" is not worth the effort it will take to prove our case, for it will take considerable time and some expense to substantiate this city's position.

The "All-American" honor, of course, does not have any monetary value. But it will add to the growing stature of this community. It would be an honor to which we can all point to with pride.

We feel that Campbell has an excellent chance to be "in the running". But it will be necessary for volunteer citizen groups who are proud of their city to cooperate and assist in assembling the material for the presentation.

It is "worth the chips", provided the citizens desire it, for it is the citizens themselves who will be recognized for their achievements rather than government officials.

The so-called "sickness of our cities" is not confined to the huge metropolitan areas today. But, with or without government aid, an informed and active citizenry can transform a city into a living, breathing community.

We are well aware that Campbell has far to go to achieve its goals. But the fact remains that our community has taken giant strides in the right direction and to be designated as an "All-American City" will recognize this fact.

In the April 16, 1968 issue of "Look" which described the All-American Cities of that year the following statement appeared:

"Every one of these winners is distinguished, above all else, by that extra spark of honest communal openness that encourages hometown people to know one another, to talk, to care and to prove--particularly in this year of simmering urban tension - that Americans can still live together productively and peacefully."

We submit that the interest that the citizens of Campbell have shown in the future of their city through their willingness to bond themselves for civic improvements in the face of the so-called poor bond climate is one of the major reasons that this city would appear eligible for the All-American designation.

There are other reasons also.....

But judge for yourself by the six rules of eligibility that are listed for contestants:

1. A city must show major civic achievements of benefit to the community as a whole. (The passage of the bond issues indicate that.)

2. It must give evidence that these achievements resulted from "citizen action" - that is, the initiative and effort of a substantial number of citizens acting to improve their community. (That also seems self-evident.)

3. The action should be recent. Programs may have begun in previous years, but should at least be approaching culmination this year.

4. Any size community may enter. Population and resources are taken fully into account in judging.

5. A city need not be a model community to win. Successful action, not perfection, is the criterion. However, the All-American City title is a symbol of good citizenship, and a city may be disqualified because of existing critical problems unless progress is being made toward their solution.

6. To qualify for consideration, a city must be formally entered as a contestant by one of its citizens, citizen groups or public officials.

Based on the eligibility rules, we are convinced that Campbell can qualify and would qualify for consideration.

But we repeat that the achievement is measured by citizen participation. It is an honor that the citizens receive for their efforts.

All of us who live and work here, we think, would appreciate the designation of "All-American City" for Campbell.

We think this city deserves such recognition.

What do you think about it?

dreds of yards away and hit a little white ball toward that hole.

The general idea, of course, is to see how close to the hole one can get.

Obviously with the thousands who are socking away day after day, on golf courses throughout the land, on rare occasions the ball hippity-hops, rolls, bounces, crawls or by some other means drops into the hole on one shot.

But it makes no difference how the ball gets into the hole.

That's a hole-in-one.

The odds against such a phenomena happening are so great that when it does occur there is great rejoicing. The guy who hit the ball, traditionally, must treat the crowd.

(An insurance policy generally covers this eventuality which allows the hole-in-oner to be reimbursed for the tab.)

Thousands of golfers go through their lives without getting a hole-in-one. Almost as many never see it happen.

It is a rare event even for the pros who make their living hitting the little white ball toward some hole.

To mark the great day in the life of a golfer, the ball is generally gilded and there are other incidental mementos that go with it so that it will allow the party to recall the event at any time, day or night, in the future.

Because of the nature of the sport, good, bad or indifferent golfers get holes-in-one.

Although we have been hacking away on golf courses for many years and continue to carry hole-in-one-insurance, (we don't know why) we have yet to see a hole-in-one occur.

And we have never been close.

But, at least, one of the family now has joined that exclusive group.

Our brother, John, sometime ago clobbered the ball on the Los Gatos Course off the tee some 210 yards away from the hole.

And it rolled in.

There must be something else we can say about this.

But it slips our mind.

Or do you have a brother?

A FRIEND OF OURS RE-cently enclosed a report from the San Jose State extension services, "The College Afield" which he guaranteed would raise our blood pressure "20 points".

Our friend is all wrong. We are almost certain that our blood pressure far exceeded 20 points, just reading about it.

The course title: "Education and Racism".

Three semester units are granted.

"Description: This course is designed to familiarize the student with various theories accounting for distinctive behavior of the poor with a particular emphasis of school performance. To develop in them an analytic competence to evaluate each position on the basis of empirical support and logical consistency." (What was that again?)

But to read further:

"Constitutional inferiority

"Deficiency in welfare stations

"Accumulated environment deficit

"Theories of culture and poverty

"Theories of limited opportunity."

He thought we should learn first-hand just what was going on.

Thank you, no.

Our temperament or temper can't even stand the topic headings of the course.

CAUGHT IN THE MIDDLE is the way someone described the position the Campbell Police Department has found itself in relation to the towing-away of cars from the Campbell Shopping Center parking lot.

One day last week more than 50 cars belonging to college students were towed away from the parking lot by Cal Towing of San Jose.

The cars belonged to West Valley College students who parked their vehicles in the shopping center lot and then high-tailed it to class.

When the car is not there when the student comes out of the class, the police are called...and the police catch it for allowing the car to be towed away. (It costs about $25 to redeem a towed-away vehicle.)

If the tow-away firm doesn't do its job, the police are called. And if the tow-away firm does its job too well, the police are called.

And the police really haven't anything to do with a private parking area.

So what else is new?

Press latest victim of pry burglar

The Campbell Press, 35 Dillon Ave. was the latest victim of the "pry burglar" Friday night, losing $65 from the cash register which was pried open, apparently by two screwdrivers. Entry was made after the burglar pried open the men's washroom window. Burnt matches all over the floor indicated that the thief had ransacked the business in the dark.

Desk drawers were left open and a small safe, containing only papers was also pried open. The burglary was discovered by Mrs. Shirley Hess, circulation manager.

Other police reports filed indicated a relatively slow week with minor traffic accidents, stolen bikes and a few domestic quarrels requiring police action.

In Los Gatos the "food stores" also showed a decrease this year, $1,310,000 in 1968 to $1,205,000 in 1969.

BUT, as usual, it was "auto row" that accounted for the biggest slice of the retail sales picture in Los Gatos. The "auto dealer" category increased the second quarter this year by a healthy $1,-272,000.

During the second quarter this year, $8,122,000 of the total sales of $15,765,000 were listed under "auto dealers".

"Auto row" in Los Gatos (something that is completely absent in Campbell) has consistently accounted for between 50 and 60 per cent of the retail sales in that community.

Campbell's total sales for the first six months have reached $27,936,000.

According to the Board of Equalization, the total sales for Campbell in 1968 were $51,522,000.

The City of Campbell, as do all cities throughout the state, receives approximately one per cent of the sales tax collected on the sales.

an industrial zone. The policy of the city in the past has been to limit Christmas tree sales to commercial zones.

By their action, the councilmen modified that policy. They indicated that they saw no reason that, if fireworks stands were allowed in industrial zones, Christmas trees should be, too.

Acting on the recommendation of the city staff, the Council on Monday also approved the purchase of three vehicles for the public works department for a total of $6,-944.62.

Courtesy Chevrolet will furnish a four-door sedan for $2,340.02; San Jose Ford a 3/4-ton cargo van for $2,717-.82 and Grant Bishop Chevrolet a ½-ton pickup for $1,-886.78.

In another bid - awarding action, the Council authorized Howard Electric Co., for $12,-746.00, to do the underground utility connections for 11 residences and businesses involved in Local Improvement District No. 18 along Bascom Ave.

Without any discussion, the City Council "noted and filed" the letter from John Stanley, of Boulder Creek, in which the writer accused the City of Campbell of "visual pollution" by allowing the 18-story office building to be constructed in Campbell.

added, was such that a roof sign was necessary.

The Council sent back another appeal to the Planning Commission for study of new evidence that had been presented.

R. V. Cloud, local industrialist, had requested rezoning of a 23,000 square foot parcel on Hacienda Ave. from its present restrictive C-M (controlled manufacturing) zoning to M-1-S (light manufacturing). His request had been denied by the planning body.

Cloud, who has developed several industrial buildings in the adjacent M-1-S area, which he also owns, wants to construct a car care center on the parcel, a use not allowed in the C-M zone.

The four tenants for the proposed operation are now located in the Camden-Sunnyoaks-expressway area where passing traffic has been curtailed.

Cloud was represented at the appeal hearing by former Mayor John M. Chargin, who, ironically, was mayor when the restrictive zoning was placed on the area.

Chargin maintained that after 10 years, another look should be taken of the parcel. He maintained that the proposed usage of the land would be a compatible use but that the M-1-S zoning would allow a larger building than under C-M.

He added that it was planned to construct a 9,000 square foot building that would cost $75,000 and that the four businesses that were proposed for it (an upholstery shop, an auto parts mart, a VW repair shop and towing service) would be forced to leave Campbell if they could not locate there. This would result in a substantial decrease in this city's sales tax revenue.

To overrule the Planning Commission on the zoning appeal a four-fifths vote of the Council is necessary. Because of the new evidence presented concerning the type of businesses that would be in the location, the Council voted to return the request to the Planning Commission for further study.

In still another appeal action, the Council unanimously upheld the Planning Commission on the variance requested by Douglas Oil Co. for the service station at Winchester and Hamilton.

The oil company wanted the canopy at the station to extend further than the city now allows. No one from Douglas was present at the meeting and Art Kee, planning director, indicated that the firm had decided to comply with the Planning Commission edict.

Flood control work closes Pollard Road

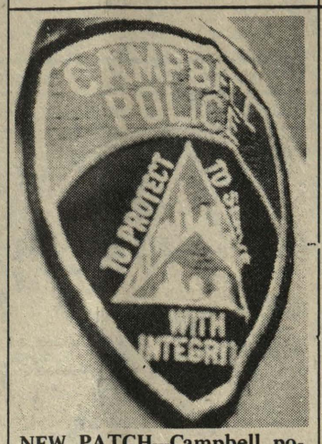
Pollard Road will be closed for the rest of the week to allow the placement of a seven foot diameter pipeline to enclose the main branch of Smith Creek between Harriet Ave. and Abbott Ave. Work started on Nov. 10 as flood protection for portions of Campbell under a bond issue approved by the voters of the North Central Flood Control zone on Oct. 8, 1963.

Traffic is being detoured around the work via Harriet Ave. to Hacienda Ave. to Abbott Ave. and then back to Pollard Road, and was estimated to take five working days.

The Ebert - Spartan Construction Co. is performing the work under a $517,460 contract with the Santa Clara County Flood Control District, according to George Korbay, deputy director of engineering.

LAND OWNER

The Federal Government owns about one-third of the land area in the United States.



NEW PATCH---Campbell police officers this week were proudly wearing a new shoulder patch that more nearly signified their role in the community than the old patch which only featured two crossed guns on a star. The new patch reads Campbell Police, over a triangle showing churches, homes and people with the words "To Protect", "To Serve" and "With Integrity" on the blue, gold and black background.

THE NEW LOOK---Captain Larry Kelly of the Campbell Police force displays this new shoulder patch which this week replaced the crossed guns with a star patch.

Despite the estimated $3 to $4 billion a year that will be spent on air pollution control in the U. S. over the next decade, the atmosphere at that time will be no cleaner than it is now.

If your child has allergies, make sure he isn't raising pigeons. A fifteen year old boy was hospitalized with shortness of breath and a history of weight loss and persistent cough. Symptoms disappeared when the pigeons were taken away.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

The drama which surrounded the recent withdrawal of diet drinks and foods containing cyclamates by HEW Secretary Robert Finch may lead to a modern review of a twelve-year-old law – the so-called Delaney Amendment.

Twelve years ago Congressman Delaney offered an amendment regarding food additives which said, in effect, that when additives are found to cause cancer in man or in animals they must be immediately withdrawn from the market. The far-reaching amendment was written in the spirit of "better be safe than sorry" and no tolerances whatever were allowed. Under such circumstances Secretary Finch was legally required to take the action he did.

In the last twelve years, tremendous progress has been made by science in detecting the presence of certain materials in food. For example, it has now been found that cyclamates are present in more foods than just diet drinks, fruits, and artifically sweetened desserts. Additionally, much more has been learned about the tolerance of both man and animals for certain additives.

In the case of cyclamates, it was determined last April that a 150 pound man could tolerate an ingestion of 3500 milligrams of cyclamate each day of his life. But experiments continued in which laboratory rats were injected with dosages which were massive by comparison.

In one test rats were given daily proportionate injections which would amount to 50 times the maximum tolerance established for human beings. This group contracted bladder cancer. Another test group was given daily injections which proportionately amounted to 20 times the tolerance for humans. These rats did not contract cancer.

For a human being to receive the same proportionate dosage of cyclamates as the rats which developed cancer, he would have to consume 165 twelve ounce bottles of diet cola each day of his entire life. This amounts to 282 seven ounce bottles. Or he would be required to eat 1450 servings or 480 pounds of diet applesauce each day of his entire life.

For a human to receive the same dosage as the rats which did not develop cancer he would have to consume 120 seven ounce bottles of diet cola or 76 pounds of diet fruit (230 servings) each and every day of his life. Obviously he would die of bloat before he could eat as much cyclamate as the rats which didn't get cancer.

Competent scientists suspect that massive injections in animals of even such common household staples as salt, sugar or vinegar could upset physical balance to the point where tumors or cancer could be produced. So, now that science has found means of detecting traces of additives including cyclamates in the human body and in food, there is serious concern in some circles that under the terms of the Delaney Amendment almost every kind of food containing additives could be classified as dangerous and withdrawn.

Clearly the time has come when science must review the Delaney Amendment in terms of up-to-date knowledge. Then Congress should reassess the Amendment with the purpose of being realistic and also fulfilling our obligation to protect the public.

Score for the Blackford game was 18-6, and for the Campbell game 35-22. This week Prospect meets Los Gatos on the Wildcat's field at 8 p.m. This will be Prospect's only night game this season. Los Gatos has been undefeated so far this year.

Prospect's CSF and Honor Society have elected their officers for the year. CSF officers are President Matt Cates, Vice-President Gayle Nelson, Secretary Cheryl Raphael, Treasurer Gary Jensen and Historian Ivalee Ingraham.

Leading Honor Society will be Sherry Barry, president; Judie Sworde, vice-president; Linda Pool, secretary; Nancy Elliott, treasurer, and Steve Krieg, historian.

Camden Chatter

DEBBIE UNDERWOOD

Plans are enthusiastically being made for Camden Cougar's big homecoming game on Thanksgiving Day. The varsity men will face the Del Mar Dons, which has been done traditionally in the past, on their home field.

In addition to the spirit buttons and ribbons worn by the Cougar fans and purple-and-gold crepe paper colored cars, a giant pancake breakfast will be held in the Camden High School Cafetorium the morning of the exciting turkey game. This will be the first of what will become an annual event here at Camden.

All food will be donated by various companies, so all money taken in will be sheer profit to benefit the student body. Pancakes will be provided through the generosity Company.

The cooking staff will consist of volunteers from the faculty and administration plus interested Camden students. Teachers participating so far are: Miss Janine Lathrop, dean of girls; Mr. James Purcell, director of activities; Mr. Frank Felice, senior counselor; Mr. Fleming, business teacher; and Mr. Woods, swimming coach.

Everyone is welcome to attend. Tickets are 50¢ each and are available in Mr. Purcell's office, the school bank, or from class representatives. So let's see a big turnout at Camden on Nov. 27 from 7 a.m. to 10 a.m., and then over on the Del Mar field to watch the Dons wiped out by the rough-and-ready Cougars!!

Campbell Corners

By Cindy Harris

Tonight is the first junior-senior recreation night at Campbell. A large turnout is expected to participate in the many activities being offered. It will be held in both gyms from 7 to 9:30.

Last week's Father-Daughter Playnight was cancelled because there wasn't enough time to organize the activities. This activity, which involves both father and daughter in such games as volleyball and basketball, will be presented later on in the year.

Ski Club, under the direction of Mr. Altman and Miss Lang, has planned two car washes to be held this month. On Nov. 15 the wash will be at Quick's Mobil Service on Winchester. The one on Nov. 22 will be held at the Union 66 station near Saratoga Lanes. Here is a good chance to get that heap of yours shining again, so take advantage of it.

There will be another group of students going to Europe next summer on somewhat the same program as last summer's group. Heading the group this year will be Mr. and Mrs. Altman and Mr. and Mrs. Collins. All interested students should contact one of these people. There will be a meeting held in the Campbell High library at 7:30 on Monday, Nov. 17 for all interested parents.

The candidates for Campbell's homecoming queen will be nominated in a different way this year. Each contestant must be sponsored by a club at Campbell. The club will be responsible for her escort at the dance and the homecoming game. Each club may only sponsor one contestant. Other rules have been set up and a copy of these regulations can be picked up in Mr. Altman's office.

Next week's football games will be against Blackford. The frosh-soph game will be at Blackford on Thursday with the Varsity following on Friday at Campbell.

Since 1935, the cost of living has gone up 183% but typical PG&E gas and electric rates are down 13.9%. Even with the gas rate increase we've had to request, a typical gas and electric customer would get more for his money than he would have 34 years ago.

Naturally your PG&E bill is higher now than it used to be, simply because you use more gas and electricity. More energy to run freezers, dryers, washers, TV, better heating and lighting... all the comforts of modern living. PG and E

Girl Scouts

NEIGHBORHOOD 17

Do fathers have a place in Girl Scouting? Troop 158 Brownies, from Dover School, think they do. To prove they are needed, several fathers were asked to build fires for their daughters at a recent cook-out. After dinner, the girls entertained with a hula dance.

The Santa Clara Girl Scout Council has set goals for the coming year to "Broaden The Reach" of girls in the program. Troop 158 feel their "Broadening Reach" should start at home.

Troop Leaders are mothers; Mrs. R. W. Wilburn and Mrs. Kenji Torigoe.

NEIGHBORHOOD 15

Ten adventurous Cadettes from Troop 878 recently spent five fun-filled days seeing new horizons in Northern California. Donna Collins, Peggy Schenkel, Jean Bicocca, Carolyn Mott, Sandy Scherbinski, Debbie Blake, Margie Ramos and Dorothy, Debbie and Florence Clapes along with their leader, Mrs. Roxie Clapes, took this "gypsy type" trip and shared in all the excitement of seeing new places.

A quick run-down of their journey follows: First day - toured the Hershey Chocolate Plant at Oakdale, stopped for lunch in Columbia and after seeing the Moaning Caves, arrived at Calaveras Big Trees State Park to cook their supper and bed down for the night.

Second day - remained at the park–hiking, swimming in the Stanislaus River and back the camp for hot showers to prepare for the next days' traveling.

The third day they broke camp mid-morning, lunch at Ebbetts Pass, Markelsville and on to D. L. Bliss State Park. The girls swam before dinner and then watched the moon rise over the lake.

The fourth day was spent there at Bliss–swimming, etc., finishing with a campfire and again watching the moon come up over the lake and through the trees.

Nothing ever runs completely smooth–if it did, where would the adventure be? After a little car trouble the morning of the fifth day, the Cadettes were on their way to Stateline, Nevada, for lunch. From there it was over the pass to Sacramento where they visited Sutter's Fort, dinner at Vacaville and reluctantly headed home.

This was truly an adventure all will remember. From time to time, they'll share the enjoyment of the things they did and places they saw while being a Cadette Girl Scout.

Pre-schoolers being counted

Campbell Union (Elemenmentary) School District is currently conducting a census of youngsters of pre-school age who live within the district.

Volunteer mothers from Parent Teacher Associations and Home and School Clubs are conducting the survey during the month of November.

Data obtained during the most recent survey in 1966 has provided planning information for the district which has permitted continuation of single session classes with a reduction in class size, change of kindergarten programs from double session to single session, the addition of a Children's Center and the best utilization of facilities.

The current survey will provide information for planning for the period from September, 1970 through June, 1973.

Wide-eyed in Washington

By Mason Sacks

There must be a certain glamor in working for Uncle Sam, for each year thousands of people pour into Washington seeking government employment. The number of people who end up finding jobs, however, is not always quite so glamorous.

In speaking with William Bohling, who is the acting Director of Personnel of the Federal Job Information Center, I learned that there is presently a "freeze" in government hiring. "Each agency has a ceiling which dictates how many people can be hired," Bohling told me, "and right now nearly everyone is near their ceiling."

John Will, the Director of Personnel of the U. S. Department of Commerce, agreed, for the most part, with Bohling's analysis. "However," he added, "there is always a need for top-notch stenographers, particularly ones trained in secretarial schools.

I also learned from Mr. Will that the new field of urbanology has created job openings for certain individuals. "Urbanology," Will explained, "concerns itself with problems of the city, particularly the ghetto. College graduates with social science degrees are generally what is needed. But if a fellow has had field experience, such as actually having run a local poverty program, then he is the one we're really looking for."

Perhaps the most glamorous of all jobs in Washington are the ones which involve working for elected government officials. In exploring this particular phase of government employment, I spoke with Jack Revan, the man who does the hiring for Senator Strom Thurmond of South Carolina.

"It's hard to speak about this in general terms," Revan pointed out, "because the situation varies from state to state. This is due to the fact that Senators generally practice home recruitment (which means they prefer to hire people from their own states).

Take, for example, Senator Thurmond. Right now he doesn't need anyone; even a qualified person from South Carolina would be turned down. Yet if this same person were from, say, Arizona, he might well find a place in Senator Fannin's office. Like I said, it all depends where you're from."

I suppose the moral of the story is that if you want to land one of the ever-so-glamorous government jobs in Washington, you should be able to type ninety words per minute, be an old hand at urbanology, or come from a state where nobody else thinks working in Washington is particularly glamorous. And if you want to be really safe, do all three.

West Valley College Sports

WEST VALLEY SPORTS FOOTBALL

"Number one!"

West Valley College has been rated as California's top junior college football team. The Vikings will play DeAnza Friday night at Foothill for the Camino Norte Conference title.

The Dons' only loss of the year was at the hands of American River of Sacramento while WVC is unbeaten.

DeAnza was rated for the first time this year last week in the state's top ten to tighten an already stiff school rivalry.

"They are by far the strongest team that we'll face all year," opined Vike Coach Bob Jones.

West Valley is number one and the Vikes want to keep it that way.

Dave Ray, the state's leading rusher, Larry Ray, second in California JC scoring, and Bill Barnes, top TD tosser, will attempt to spark Valley to their first ever conference title.

A Viking offensive line of Murphy MacFarland (216), Rocci LaMantia (250), Herb Robinson (215), Andy Jackson (210), and Lou Franzan (210) will work to hold back the Don's big four rushers.

A win for either team Friday night would mean a berth in the state play-offs on Thanksgiving Day in Fresno.

The Vikes continued their winning ways with a 28-7 win over Santa Rosa last Friday night. West Valley, playing the entire first quarter in the Bearcubs half of the field, put two quick td's on the board before the first gun sounded.

D. Ray boosted his state leading rushing total to 1157 yards with 131 in 22 carries.

The diminutive halfback hit paydirt three times on a run of 50 yards and two one-yard plunges. Barnes threw his 17th tally toss of the year in the fourth quarter as Scott Loomis hauled in the 29-yarder in the end zone. L. Ray continued his scoring by booting two of four PAT's.

SOCCER

The West Valley soccermen have only two weeks left in the season. The Vikes hold a Western Junior College Soccer Conference marking ot 2-6-1 and a season record of 3-8-1. They battle Stanford University Wednesday in non-league action in Palo Alto.

Valley has put through only eight goals in conference action to account for its losing ways.

Their most recent loss was at the hands of the City College of San Francisco 5-1 at the WVC field. Chuck Reynolds put through the Vikings lone tally with a midfield boot that skipped by the goalie.

WATER POLO

In order for the College water polo team to take a winning record into the Northern California Junior College Championship Tourney, they will have to beat DeAnza and Foothill on successive days in the final week of the regular season.

The Vikes, losers to the Dons at their Saratoga pool three weeks ago, will be in search of an upset when they visit Cupertino to tangle with one of NorCal's top teams Friday afternoon.

But Valley can't relax after the DeAnza game because the next morning they will host the Foothill Owls in 'Toga. The Vikes and the Owls have each won a game from the other this year and this will prove a series decider.

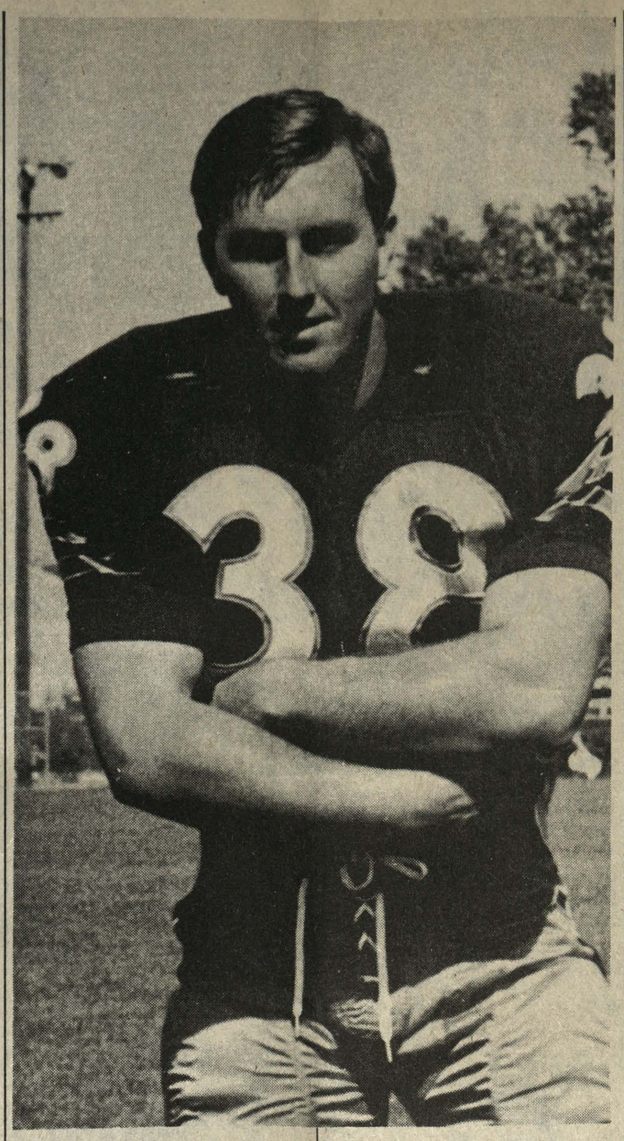
In the Cabrillo Tourney, the Owls dropped an 8-6 decision to the Vikings but came back later in the season to overcome 6-4.

CROSS-COUNTRY

With one of their top line runners out, the WV cross-country team finished fourth at the Camino Norte Conference finals last Friday on the Vikes Saratoga course.

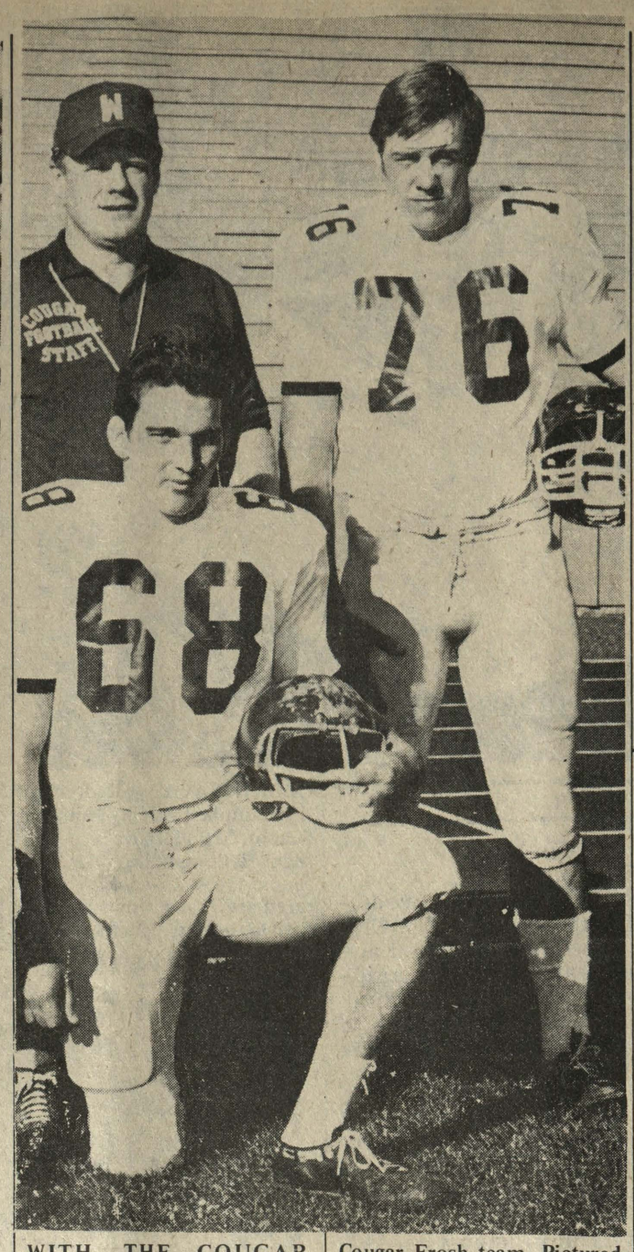
The Vikings finished behind DeAnza, Santa Rosa and Marin while managing to outclass only Contra Costa and Solano.

Dan Cruz held down the number six spot for WVC but the Vikes top runner, Les DeVoe, missed the meet because of the flu. Other Valley finishers were Dave Kopp, 16th; Al Rios, 18th; Scott McVay, 24th; Jeff Christensen, 25th; John Mullis, 27th; Don Beauregard, 29th; and Dan Miller, 33rd.



VIKING GUARD---Greg Warrick is a middle guard on the West Valley College football team, the number one junior college team in the state. The 5'10" 205-pounder caused and recovered a Santa Rosa fumble in the game last Friday.

West Valley faces the season's toughest opponent this Friday when the Vikings tackle DeAnza for the conference title.



WITH THE COUGAR FROSH---Two students from Campbell at Washington State University are members of the Cougar Frosh team. Pictured with Coach Jim Sweeney are Dain Hines, guard, (kneeling) and Dennis Mitchell, tackle.

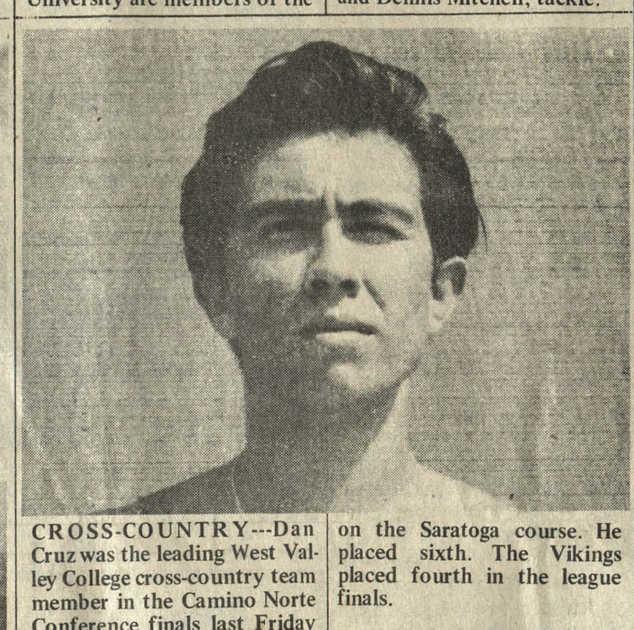
WINTER LEAGUE PLAY---Don Cox is the batter; Billy Beinitz, the catcher and John Hanrahan, the umpire, in this "action shot" of Campbell Winter League at Rincon Park. Progress in the completion of the clubhouse is noted by the wall that is visible in the background.

Four teams--"A's", "Cubs", "Tigers" and "Cards" play every Saturday. Last Saturday the A's took the Cubs 8-4 and the Tigers beat the Cards 7-2. Leading hitters were Kurt Lizer, Cubs; Ken Pimentel, Cards; Jon Wilson, Tigers and Dave Thompson, A's.

Don Dias, of the Tigers, and Mike Smurthwaite of the Cubs did good work on defense.

The highlight of the day was a triple play engineered by the Card infield in the third inning when the Tigers had the bases loaded with no outs.

SOCCERMAN---Bill Louie, a 1968 Campbell High grad, and a member of the West Valley College soccer team, was slightly injured in the San Francisco City College game last Friday, but came right back after a few minutes on the bench. He will star against Stanford this Wednesday.



CROSS-COUNTRY---Dan Cruz was the leading West Valley College cross-country team member in the Camino Norte Conference finals last Friday on the Saratoga course. He placed sixth. The Vikings placed fourth in the league finals.

Letters to the Editor

Ed. Note:
The Campbell Press published a story last week about two girls finding a gold coin in a UNICEF box.

Dear Editor:

Thank you for your article about our finding Mrs. Gardner's gold coin in our UNICEF box. I would like you to know that it was not my sister Lorraine that found the coin but my friend, Margaret Tefft.

We are glad that we found the owner of the gold coin.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Al Salciccia

Oddly enough, football was not always an autum sport... Back in the old days, some colleges started their regular football seasons in winter or spring... For instance, Georgia opened its season in 1892 by playing its opening football game against Auburn on Feb. 22!... And there were other examples like that.

When was the last time an Ivy League football team won the national championship?... It hasn't happened for many years ... Last time was 1925 when Dartmouth was voted national champs.

How's this for a football oddity... Did you know there was once a college football game in which one team did not run or pass the ball at any time during the entire game, and still won it!... It happened to Kentucky... In a game in the early 1900s, Kentucky decided to kick on first down every time they got the ball... They did kick on first down throughout the game... They never ran the ball and never passed... And they won 12-6 by recovering two fumbles by their opponents in the end zone! ...This oddity is hard to believe but it's been verified by the Kentucky Athletic Department.

...y League ...eets tonight

Parents and friends of Pony League baseball are invited to the first general meeting of the Campbell - Moreland League 1970 season tonight (Wednesday).

The meeting will take place in Room K2 at the Castro School at 7:45 p.m.

Officers for 1970 will be introduced and plans for the 1970 season will be outlined, including the naming of the necessary committees.

Reports on the Rincon Park field and the clubhouse will be made as well as the current Winter League play that is now in progress.

Les Baldinger is the president of the Campbell-Moreland Pony League.

Los Gatos keeps rolling towards league crown

Los Gatos High School kept on rolling toward the West Valley League championship last Friday by romping over Camden High 56-8.

The Wildcats take on Prospect this Friday. Prospect, which now has a 4-2 record in league play, would like nothing better than to dump the high-riding Los Gatos team, thus causing a contest for the championship once again.

Campbell, which also has a 4-2 league record, defeated Prospect 35-22 Friday and takes on Blackford this Friday.

Del Mar handed Westmont a 12-6 defeat Friday while Blackford was defeating Branham 14-6.

Saratoga and Leigh played to a 6-6 tie. Saratoga meets Westmont Friday and Leigh and Camden play.

There is an outside chance yet that the Thanksgiving Day traditional between Los Gatos and Campbell still could take on a championship flavor should Los Gatos fall in either of the two games remaining (Prospect and Del Mar).

Provided, of course, that Campbell wins both its games (Blackford and Leigh).

Convalescent Hospital opens

Regency Rehabilitation and Convalescent Hospital, a new service for Santa Clara Valley at 1250 S. Winchester, will open in mid-November, according to Betty G. Stein, hospital administrator.

The $900,000 facility will accommodate 170 patients in a 32,000 square foot structure on one-and-a-half acres at the corner of Winchester and Payne Ave.

Mrs. Stein began her hospital career as a Nurses' Aid. She has worked with patients at Camarillo State Hospital in addition to convalescent hospital administration. She resides with her husband, Dr. Seymour N. Stein, in Santa Clara Valley and has also taught catering, thus bringing to the hospital gourmet cuisine as well as convalescent care.

Regency Hospital is a member of the California Nursing Home Assn., the Sanitarium Assn. of California, and the American Nursing Home Assn. A house doctor is on call and a master social worker consultant is available for Medicare patients.

X-Ray, laboratory, speech therapists, physio-therapists, inhalation therapy, dental consultants and other hospital services are available to pre and post operative, chronic, geriatric, cardiac, diabetic, and orthopedic convalescents.

Kiwanis Club spearheads drug abuse war

Kiwanis International will spearhead a program in each community it serves aimed at mobilizing the area in an all-out war against drug abuse according to Jack Trimble, president of the Kiwanis Club of Campbell.

The program, designed to inform the public in general, and parents, teachers, and students, at all levels, in particular, on the extent, kinds and dangers of drug abuse is called "Operation Drug Alert". The program was announced at the 54th annual convention of Kiwanis International at Miami Beach. Dick Hardy and Jim Duffield are chairmen for the program.

In announcing the new program, Trimble pointed out that Kiwanis is well aware of the fact that campaigns aimed at stifling drug abuse are already under way in many communities.

Operation Drug Alert is the result of a survey undertaken late last year by Kiwanians who questioned 500 leaders in all walks of life in the United States and Canada.
